Additional information about Quarles & Brady LLP

At Quarles, we understand that specialty pharmacy is unique. We assist clients in navigating the nuanced legal and regulatory issues in the specialty pharmacy industry on a daily basis. We provide practical legal advice on issues ranging from REMS to accreditation, the Federal Anti-Kickback Statute (AKS) to adherence programs, licensing to 340B issues, and HUBs to data use agreements. Our team of specialty pharmacy attorneys includes a former pharmacy technician, a former nurse, and five attorneys who started their professional careers as pharmacists, one of whom was the owner of an independent pharmacy.

We have cultivated meaningful relationships with regulators and are actively involved in industry organizations. In addition to specialty pharmacies, we also represent payors, prescribers, manufacturers, and pharmacists. The team's ability to combine multiple industry perspectives with legal experience enables us to provide exceptional strategic counsel and help clients achieve their long-term objectives. Our list of "high touch" legal services includes contract drafting and negotiation, fraud and abuse, corporate transactions, licensing, data privacy and security, billing and coding practices, and DEA.
