Pharmacist Learning Objectives:

At the end of this knowledge-based activity, participating individuals should be able to:

- Describe the factors that are used to define specialty medication
- Describe how a specialty program in collaboration with pharmacogenomic expertise can ensure patients receive the most effective therapies for complex, high risk conditions
- Discuss three specialty medications that have phenotypic implications and when to intervene if genomic information is available for patients

Target Audience: Pharmacists

Type of Activity: Knowledge

Fees: Complimentary for members. There is a fee of $30 for non-member pharmacists.

Statement of Continuing Pharmacy Education Credit:

The UIC Retzky College of Pharmacy is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) as a provider of continuing pharmacy education. The non-accredited cosponsor for this activity is the National Association of Specialty Pharmacy (NASP). This activity has been assigned an ACPE Universal Activity Number 0016-9999-26-020-L01-P for 1.0 contact hours (0.1 CEUs) of CE credit for pharmacists. Attendance at the entire knowledge-based activity, completion of the evaluation, and submission of NABP eProfile ID and MMDD are prerequisites for receiving continuing pharmacy education credit(s). All ACPE credit awarded to participants must be uploaded to CPE Monitor™ within 30 days of the activity date. Pharmacists are required to provide their e-Profile ID and date of birth (MMDD) at the time of the activity. Please contact pharmce@uic.edu if you do not see activity information listed within 30 days. For more information and to set up your e-Profile visit: www.MyCPEmonitor.net.

How to Earn Credit:

Participants must complete the activity as described in the Continuing Education Statement above. After attending the activity, participants must complete the activity evaluation to claim CE credit. All CE credits will be uploaded to CPE Monitor™.
